Mission Alignment

Describe how offering the proposed program at market tuition aligns with the mission of the university and the Board strategic plan:

The Mission Statement of Florida Atlantic University is: Florida Atlantic University is a multi-campus public research university that pursues excellence in its missions of research, scholarship, creative activity, teaching, and active engagement with its communities.

The Masters of Taxation program aligns well with the mission of the University to pursue excellence in teaching and engagement with the community. The market rate tuition contributes to the strategic goal of enriching the educational experience by strengthening and expanding graduate programs at FAU, as well as meeting professional and workforce needs.

As the Southeast Florida region continues to grow as a hub of international commerce, so has the need for accountants and auditors in the financial services sector. Enterprise Florida Inc. (EFI) has designated Accounting/Auditing as an industry targeted for growth and predicts for 2014-2015 a need for nearly 1,200 additional advanced degree professionals in the field in FAU's service area, including the counties of St. Lucie, Martin, Palm Beach, Broward, and Dade.

There has been an increased focus on accounting and auditing as a response to corporate scandals and recent financial crises. Stricter laws and regulations, particularly in the area of

Accountability Measures

Indicate how the university will monitor the success of the policy. Provide specific metrics that will be used.

- Number of cohorts initiated: The cohort structure reinforces timely graduation rates. In the cohort arrangement, the same group of students takes the same courses throughout the duration of the program. This arrangement differs from the alternative flexible structure in which students select the course/s they take in any given semester. Since the latter staggered approach is less efficient for the College and less effective for student success, each market rate program will be a cohort program. The number of cohorts run for each program during each calendar year will be reported.
- Number of students enrolled: The number of students enrolled in each cohort will vary. Enrollment is a function of market tuition and economic conditions in the state, as well as a prospective student's self assessment of their time and availability to commit to a program. An appropriate range of students in each cohort is important to sustain a high level of student interaction and ensure sufficient contributions from each student.
- Students satisfaction: An overall satisfaction score will be reported for each program. This score will be a composite of items intended to measure student assessment of the program content, pedagogical effectiveness of the professor, and administrative services provided to the student.

Course Availability

Explain how the university will ensure that sufficient courses are available to meet student demand and facilitate completion of each program submitted for consideration. Will any similar E&G courses be eliminated or scaled back if this program is implemented?

The market rate Masters of Taxation program will be managed in a cohort format, which will ensure that a sufficient number of courses are available to meet student demand and facilitate completion of each program. The schedules of the programs are finalized well in advance and the School of Accounting Executive Programs will work with the School of Accounting to ensure sufficient faculty staffing for all programs.

FAU's College of Business currently offers a Traditional E&G funded Masters of Taxation program. This program will not be eliminated or scaled back.

The proposal will enable the University to provide students greater access to programs, increase the number of degree graduates and improve visibility through increased advertising.

It is expected that the market rate Masters of Taxation will generate $300,000 FY2015-2016.

Revenues will be spent to cover direct and indirect instructional costs, program administration, student support services, career services, advertising, renovation of classrooms and facilities, technology upgrades for program delivery, professional development for faculty and staff, and to support College and University initiatives.

Private vendors will not be utilized for direct delivery and administration of the program; however, private approved university vendors such as food caterers, textbook publishers, media outlets for advertising, technology and material providers will be used to support the program.

Funds will be budgeted through the School of Accounting Executive Programs as a self-supporting auxiliary unit within the College of Business.

Other Information

Provide any additional information if necessary, and complete the attached supplemental form. Indicate additional degrees that may be produced by going to market tuition and how the university will assist the students with employment or career advancement.

The schedules of the programs are finalized well in advance and the Department of Executive Education will work with department chairs to ensure sufficient faculty staffing for all programs. Historically, FAU's Executive Education degree programs offered to working professionals under Continuing Education BOG Regulation 8.002, have always provided a sufficient number of courses to meet student demand.

FAU's College of Business does not currently offer a Masters of International Business program; the curriculum for it was established in 2000, but the program has been dormant since 2006.
